

Dear Flo, Leo, & Ina,

Somewhere in France

There's really not much to write about, except that I'm fine and happy. Keep your eyes open for news about the 104th division and you'll know what we're doing. It's fun to talk to the farmers around here and to see how they live. They are very friendly, and you can usually find a few soldiers in their houses in the evening drinking cider. The other day we walked two miles in order to take a shower. That is a treat we don't get very often. Yesterday a Red Cross Clubmobile came around with coffee and donuts - another treat. Here are some things I can use: a flashlight, a cigarette lighter, air mail stationery and 6¢ air mail stamps, dried dates etc., Mielles or any other kind of chocolate powder. What is Mauri's address now?

Love, Hersch
